Replacing Missing Teeth With a Comfortable, Removable Solution

Missing teeth can affect more than your smile. They can make chewing difficult, affect speech and leave noticeable gaps between your teeth.

Removable partial dentures are custom-made dental appliances designed to replace one or more missing teeth while using the remaining natural teeth for support. They can be removed for cleaning and are a practical tooth-replacement option for suitable patients.

When Are Removable Partial Dentures Recommended?

A removable partial denture may be considered when you have several missing teeth but still have healthy natural teeth that can provide support.

They may be suitable for:

- Replacing one or more missing teeth
- Restoring chewing ability
- Filling visible gaps in the smile
- Supporting clearer speech in some cases
- Restoring a more complete appearance to the smile
- Patients who may not be ready or suitable for other tooth-replacement options

Your dentist will assess your gums, remaining teeth, bite and overall oral health before recommending the most appropriate solution.

The right design depends on the number and location of missing teeth and the condition of the remaining teeth.

How Are Removable Partial Dentures Made?

At Jerush Dentofacial & Cosmetic Laser Centre, treatment begins with a detailed examination of your teeth, gums and bite.

Depending on your needs, the process may include:

1. Consultation & assessment – we understand your concerns and evaluate your oral health.

Your dentist will also explain how to insert, remove and care for your new denture.

Living With & Caring for Your Denture

It can take a little time to become comfortable with a new removable partial denture. With regular use and proper care, most patients gradually adapt to it.

To keep your denture comfortable:

- Remove and clean it as advised by your dentist
- Maintain good brushing and gum care
- Handle the denture carefully when removing it
- Store it appropriately when it is not being worn
- Attend regular dental check-ups
- Inform your dentist if it becomes loose, uncomfortable or damaged

The appearance, fit and treatment outcome vary according to each patient's oral condition and denture design.

Frequently Asked Questions

1. Can a partial denture replace just one missing tooth?

Yes, a removable partial denture can be designed to replace one or more missing teeth, depending on the individual situation.

2. Will my partial denture look natural?

Modern dentures can be designed to closely match the colour, shape and appearance of your natural teeth and gums.

3. Is it difficult to eat with a partial denture?

There may be an adjustment period when you first receive the denture. Your dentist can guide you on how to gradually become comfortable while eating.

4. Can I sleep wearing my partial denture?

Your dentist will advise you on when to wear and remove your denture. In many cases, removing it as instructed allows the mouth and supporting tissues to rest.

5. How long does a removable partial denture last?

Its lifespan varies depending on the material, oral hygiene, everyday use and changes in your mouth. Regular dental reviews help maintain the fit and condition.

6. What if my denture becomes loose?

A loose denture should be checked by your dentist. Avoid trying to modify it yourself, as an incorrect adjustment may affect your bite or comfort.

7. Are removable partial dentures better than dental implants?

They are different treatment options. The most suitable choice depends on your oral health, bone condition, number of missing teeth, preferences and overall treatment requirements.
